ALTAMIRA EMPLOYEES FUNCTIONS

Altamira Employees is a cloud software enabling you to manage information and documents relating to your employees and to the key business processes in which they are involved.

DIGITIZE HR DATA MANAGEMENT

Altamira Employees' employee database stores all the information and documents related to company co-workers, both internal and external.

It can easily handle large numbers of co-workers: thanks to the system of filters and advanced searches, finding the person you are looking for within the database is quick and easy.

The main view of the DB, just like every other element of the platform, can be customized to highlight the information you want.

ORGANIZE ALL THE INFORMATION THE WAY YOU WANT

Within the personal files and the different views, you can store a virtually unlimited amount of information.

By default, we provide sections for:

- personal information
- documents
- pay
- position held
- skills

ENABLE DIFFERENT LEVELS OF ACCESS

The client company can determine the access level to the platform of each employee.

It may, for example, decide that:

- an employee may access only his own file;
- a manager may view the files of all the employees in his/her team;
- the HR office has full access to all documentation.

PROVIDES AN OVERVIEW

The HR office has at its disposal various thematic sections giving a general overview of the company.

Fast and detailed searches can be run for all benefits, payslips, emoluments, documents, etc., quickly identifying whatever is required.

The fast search mode is always available for quick searches using Boolean operators; the advanced mode allows you to apply several parameters and the saveable filters mean you can save commonly-used searches.

ARCHIVE ALL DOCUMENTATION

Altamira Employees allows each employee and the HR office to upload all kinds of useful documents, regardless of their format or size.

Documents can be categorized according to different parameters and an expiry date may be applied, which is useful, for example, with employment contracts.

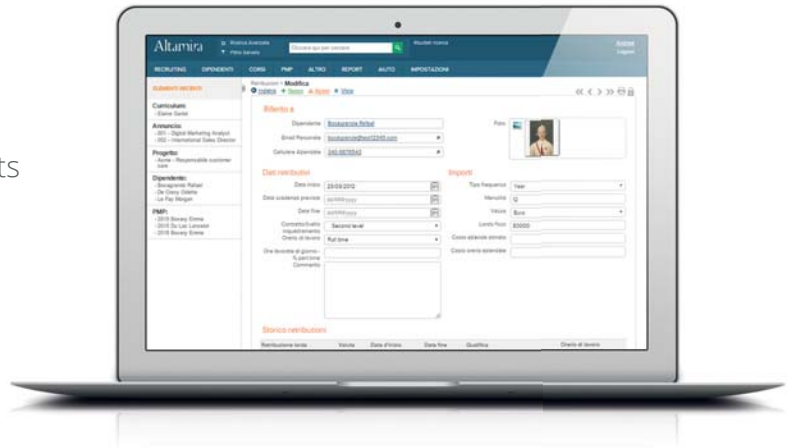

The platform's search engine can also search inside uploaded documents, which can be previewed on the platform itself, without the need to download them.

INTEGRATE WITH PAYROLL

Altamira Employees integrates with payroll software.

Thus, it imports all the information and documents (payslips) managed by these applications, presenting them to each employee and to the HR office, in a clear and intuitive manner, in the salaries section.

These data are also useful in creating detailed reports.

ORGANIZE DATA INTO REPORTS

The Altamira Employees reporting function allows you to organize all the data managed by the platform in charts, tables and various kinds of report.

Upon set-up, you will already find several reports of the kind in daily use by the HR offices of most companies.

You can also create other reports, independently or with the support of our customer service, customized to client needs.

MAP EMPLOYEES' SKILLS

With Altamira Employees, trace and monitor the skills of your human capital.

For each skill identified, you can enter the desired level and the current one: the platform then automatically generates a skills gap, providing valuable information for the HR office.

Performance management processes are handled in a thorough manner in the Altamira Performance module.
