Digitalize your employee evaluation process

Altamira Performance is a cloud-based software that allows you to evaluate employee competencies and goals in an agile, transparent, and collaborative environment.

Recreate your evaluation processes

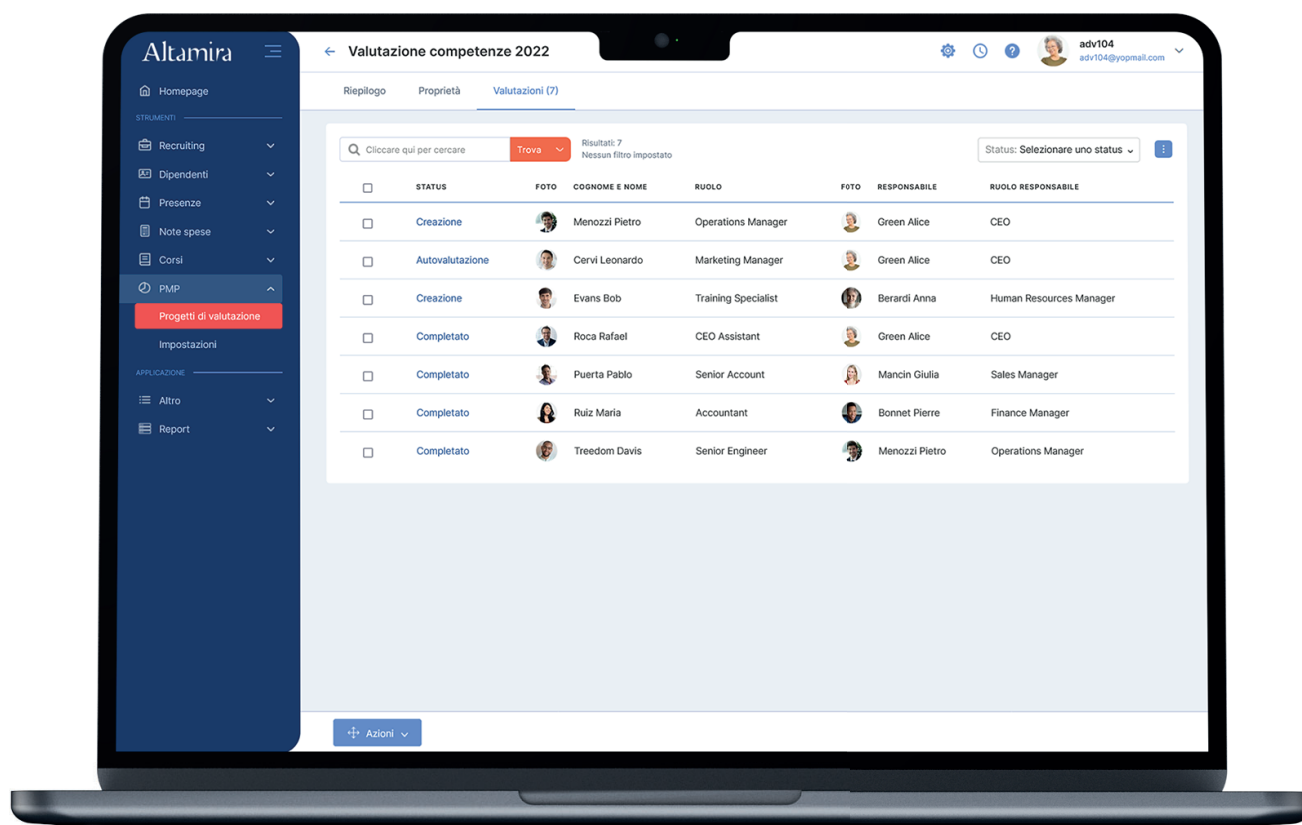

Take full advantage of the four pre-made evaluation templates available on the platform and adapt them to your company's specific needs.

As a matter of fact, most of the platform is fully customizable, including evaluation metrics and timelines, skills, objectives, etc. You could decide, for example, to allow self-evaluation or to carry out one or more interim reviews.

Increase transparency and reward merit

Altamira Performance provides a self-service portal where managers and collaborators can interact in total transparency.

Employees can view their own appraisal process while managers provide feedback on their team. An automatic notification system informs the parties when it's their time to engage.

Map out your company's human capital

Map out the soft and hard skills available in your company. Our software assigns skills to specific roles, while other competencies are deemed essential for anyone working at the company; these parameters are fully customizable to adapt to your needs and processes.

Evaluate competencies with observable behaviors

During the evaluation process, acquired skills can be evaluated directly or through observable behaviors. The latter option allows for a greater level of objectivity, assessing the actual frequency of a concrete behavior rather than an abstract competence.

Identify skills that need strengthening

By inputting the actual and desired level for a targeted skill, the platform will automatically identify the existing gaps, thus informing the implementation strategy of the company's employee development programs.

Define your goals

With our performance evaluation platform, employees and managers can work together to define qualitative and quantitative goals, which can be set on a personal, team, or corporate level.

As a result, employees know how to contribute to the company's success, while managers are provided with reliable metrics that help them assign promotions and rewards.

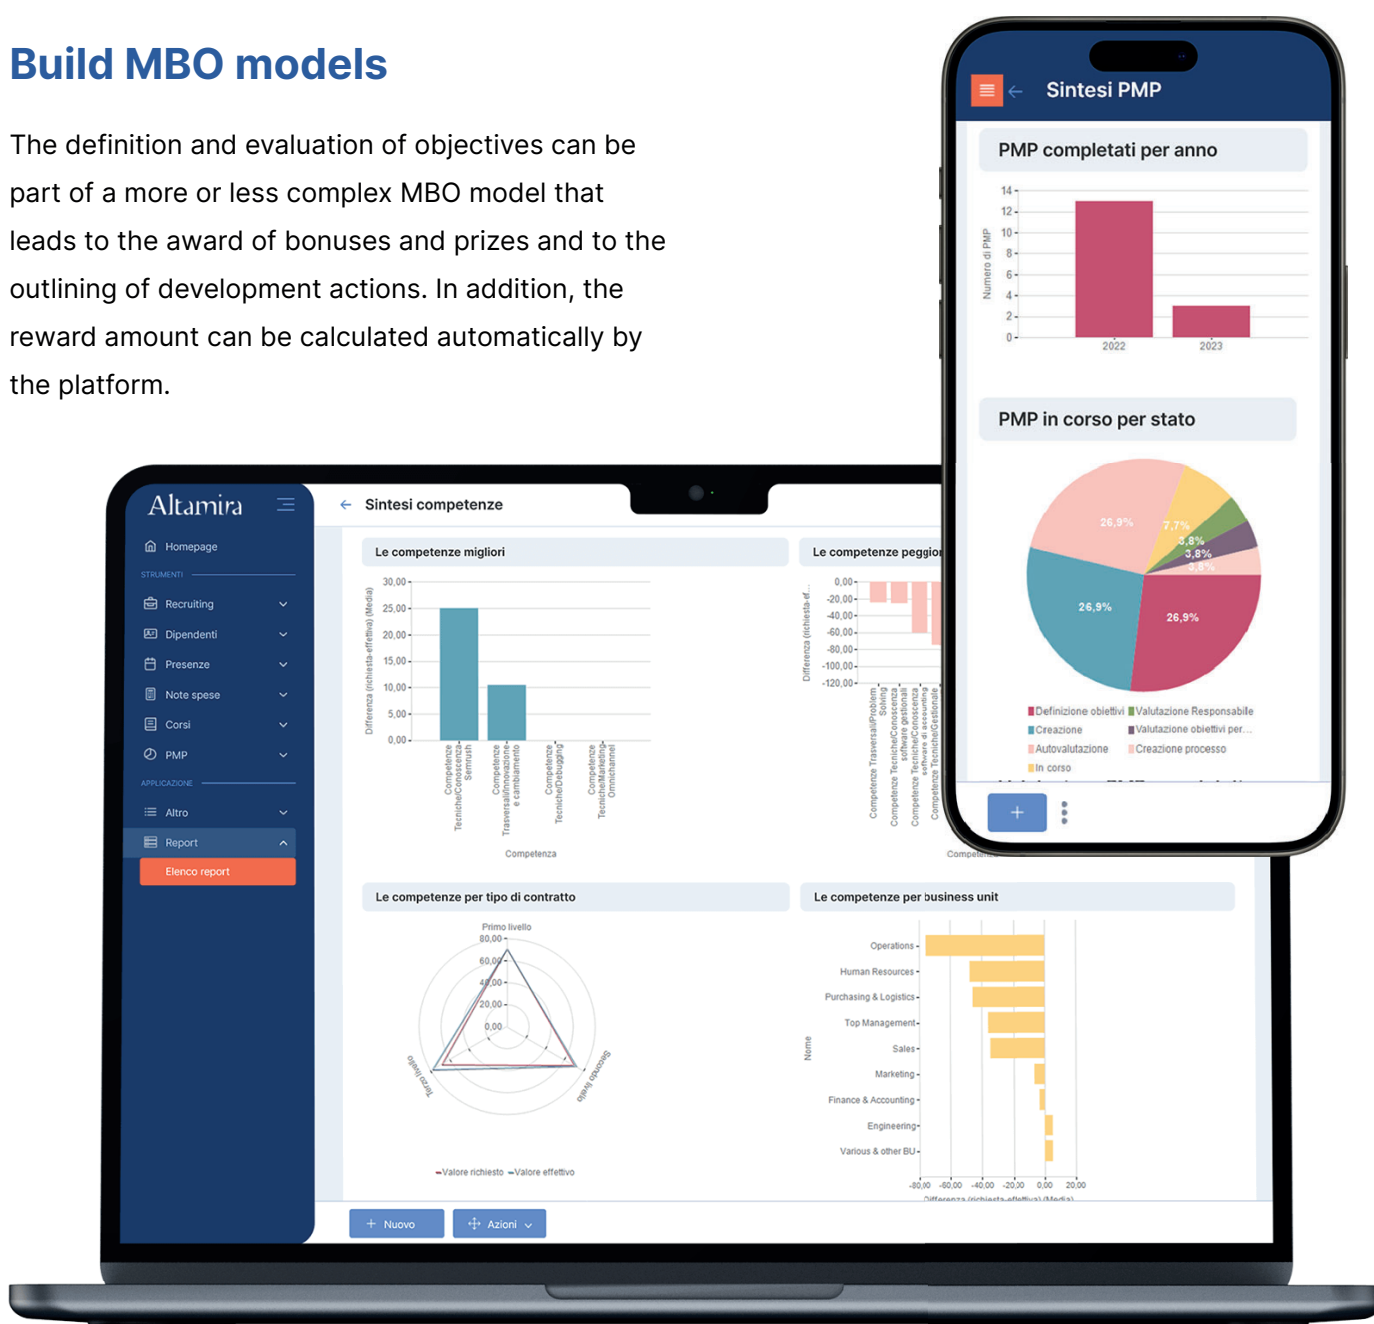

Build MBO models

The definition and evaluation of objectives can be part of a more or less complex MBO model that leads to the award of bonuses and prizes and to the outlining of development actions. In addition, the reward amount can be calculated automatically by the platform.

Analyze the results

Altamira's rich library of reports gives you an overview of your employees' skills and their ability to achieve your designated goals.

New performance reports can be built autonomously or together with our support team.

Enhance Altamira Performance with the rest of the Altamira HRM Suite

Managing multiple HR processes with Altamira HRM Suite provides great benefits. You'll only need to create, store and protect one set of credentials that'll give you access to a unified interface where you'll be able to generate all the reports you need.
